Article II: Purpose

Section 1: Purpose Statement

CHASA is designed for those on campus who are interested in Chinese American culture. Our goal is to provide a space where students can build community amongst their peers and be able to learn more about their own individual identities. We recognize the importance of acknowledging the two different cultures and how having two backgrounds can impact one's college experience. Through social events and community outreach, CHASA strives to establish a better understanding of Chinese American culture at UW-Madison.

Section II: Policy Agreement

CHASA is willing to abide by all UW-Madison policies and guidelines, especially relating to activities which our organization may conduct or participate.

Article III: Membership

Section I: Membership Requirements

Members must be enrolled at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Membership is open to both undergraduate and graduate/professional students.
